Arapahoe County holds meeting on Dove Valley Regional Park expansion plans

Arapahoe County Open Space program partners with City of Centennial to enhance park amenities

LITTLETON, CO --- In partnership with the City of Centennial, the Arapahoe County Open Space program is hosting a May 12 public meeting to gain feedback on plans to expand the Dove Valley Regional Park.

Recreational opportunities, including drop-in use and programming, will soon increase with the development of an additional 30 acres directly to the east of the existing park.

The public meeting will be held 4 – 7 p.m. in the County's Open Space office, 6934 S. Lima St., Unit A, Centennial 80112 and will offer citizens the opportunity to review the draft designs and provide feedback on the types of amenities that will best serve the needs and interests of the community.

From spring to fall, Dove Valley Regional Park is filled with athletes young and old. The park currently features eight soccer fields, one championship multi-use field, two lighted baseball diamonds, four sand volleyball courts, four picnic pavilions and a one-mile loop paved walking path.

To learn more about the project and to see the draft design concepts, please visit Open Spaces' Current Projects page on the website at www.arapahoegov.com where you can also find information about the County's Open Spaces, Parks and Trails near you.
