Arapahoe County to hold open house for citizen feedback on Byers and Strasburg SubArea Plans and other corridor plans underway

Littleton, Colo. --- Arapahoe County invites residents, business owners, educators and others with interests in Byers and Strasburg, to stop by a public open house on Monday, Dec.14 at May Farms, 64001 U.S. Highway 36, Byers, for an update on the subarea plans for the unincorporated communities. Citizens can stop by anytime between 4 and 7 p.m. A light buffet dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m.

The Strasburg and Byers SubArea Plans focus on land use guidance elements of the Arapahoe County Comprehensive Plan and were developed to provide a basis for future zoning changes and land use and development within these communities.

These plans are being updated based on the results of community needs assessment surveys that were completed in late 2007 in Byers and 2009 in Strasburg, as well as other actions that have occurred since these plans were adopted. Survey results will be available for review. Citizens will have the opportunity to meet with staff, provide comments and ask questions.

“We hope the community will participate in the open house as the feedback will help us finalize the subarea plans,” said Commissioner Rod Bockenfeld who represents the eastern communities in District 3. “These plans show the current roadmap of Byers and Strasburg and help to identify the areas of concern and areas of potential growth.”

Information also will be available on the I-70 Corridor economic development study, currently underway with the Regional Economic Advancement Partnership and Adams County, and the Arapahoe County Transportation Master Plan Update and Open Space Master Plan both currently in progress. Public Works and Development staff also will be on hand to discuss plans to develop rural infrastructure standards and other services such as zoning and animal control.

For a complete copy of the subarea plans, please contact the Planning Division at 720-874-6500 or access the County website at www.co.arapahoe.co.us and link to the Public Works and Development web page.
